Member News...

A big welcome to new members! We have such interesting members! A reminder to put some business cards in our BPW "Board." And for all new members who haven't sent in their bio, do it now! Don't miss this opportunity to market yourself!

- Joceline Dupuis' first career was mothering four children (now all grown!). Her passion for the health field developed through midwifery – after three homebirths. Later, as a single parent, she studied massage therapy, and became Shediac's first massage therapist in the mid-1990s. She has developed a speciality in pain management after much study as well as treating car accident victims suffering from whiplash, back pain, migraines and depression. Her interest in pain management was highlighted by her own car accident in 1998 in which she "learned first hand" how to better manage pain at home. She has since developed courses and workshops for teaching practical tips on managing pain at home, in the office, or while traveling in a car, bus or airplane. In March, Joceline opened a new clinic in the Shediac mall. You may have had a chance to witness first hand her "healing touch" at her table at our April health conference. Joceline believes that everyone should "take their health to heart."
- Yu Ming Ye is the owner of East-West Acupuncture & Massage Clinic in Riverview. She is a traditional Chinese Medicine Doctor with a Masters Degree in Education. She is a Holistic health consultant, Registered Acupuncturist, Registered Massage Therapist and Tai Chi Coach with 15 years clinic and teaching experience. Yu Ming has a multitude of talents and is very much appreciated as a professional, enthusiastic health educator and well-being promoter around the Maritimes. Prior to immigrating to Canada in 1995, Yu Ming worked at the Shanghai, China Traditional Chinese Medicine University. She was also an amateur television and radio hostess for Women's health programs. She worked for the New Brunswick Department of Education and the University of New Brunswick for eight years before moving to Riverview.
